PESSIMISM IN LONDON OVER REPARATIONS CONFERENCE

Leaders Doing All Possible To Avoid Breakdown

EXPECTS REPORT

Allies Against French On All But One Point

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 9.—A feeling of pessimism as regards the Downing Street conference is apparent in consequence of the considerable divergencies of opinion which revealed themselves in the course of the committee of experts' examination of M. Poincare's proposals.

Reuter says that the situation this morning seems very uncertain but that everybody is doing his best to avoid anything in the nature of a breakdown.

Meantime the experts are pegging away at consideration of their report for presentation to the main conference.

French quarters in London, however, anticipate that Great Britain will reject M. Poincare's plan as a whole.

Mr. Lloyd George visited M Poincare early this morning and had a long conversation view to reconciling their standpoints. He subsequently left Claridge's accompanied by M. Theunis, the Belgian Premier.

Reuter's Paris correspondent states that the papers, which yesterday enthused over M. Poincare's presentment of the French views at the opening conference, are no less dissatisfied today at the proceedings of the committee of experts.

They complain of the excessive British consideration towards Germany to the detriment of France.

On the other hand this is strenuously denied in British official circles in London, where it is pointed out that the question is not one of the principle of reparations but of the manner of obtaining reparations.

SEEK A SOLUTION

The Italians and Belgians are in no way idle in regard to the present negotiations but are striving to present a solution commonly acceptable. It is pointed out, however, that the first and most important matter is the settling of the question of a moratorium.

The difficulties of the conference, which early this afternoon were feared might lead to a breakdown, are revealed through a French source, which states that Mr. Lloyd George at a meeting with M. Poincare and M. Theunis this morning agreed to the following French proposals:

That the Reparations Commission should directly collect 26 percent on sums received by Germany in foreign currency or on German exports (which is estimated would yield 1,250,000,000 gold marks);

Seizure of German customs receipts, estimated at 300,000,000 gold marks;

Control of State mines in the Ruhr district and of forests on the left bank of the Rhine. The British Government is strenuously opposing the proposal to re-establish the Rhine customs barrier and to establish a customs barrier round the Ruhr district in which connection M. Poincare is unbending.

Contrary to arrangement the conference is not meeting today in consequence of the protracted discussions of the committee of experts not being concluded.

EXCHANGE NERVOUS

The foreign exchange market is nervous, fearing a breakdown of the conference. Marks depreciated 200, closing this afternoon at 3,600.

London, August 10.—The report of the experts was handed in today. The Belgians agreed with the French regarding the control of mines and forests but all the Allies were against the French on all the other points. The majority of the committee concluded that M. Poincare's proposed "productive guarantees" would produce no extra cash whatever from Germany.

The Italians and Japanese agreed with the British that control of State mines and forests would not produce cash and was useless except as a sanction. All the Allies except France agreed that the

DOG DAYS STUFF

By Westa

LA-DEES and gentlemen! Mr. Adolph Spitzel is now pinch hitting for Baron Munchausen:

"Once upon a time," said Adolph, his face as straight as the recording angel's ledger, "there was a ventriloquist out of a job. He was down and out—finished—broke. This was back in the old days before prohibition.

"Well, one day this bird was walking along the street, wondering where his next meal was coming from, when he noticed that a sociable looking little dog was following him. So he whistled to the dog, which came running, and after patting his new found friend on the head a few times they walked along together, presently arriving at a saloon, which they entered.

"The ventriloquist stepped up to the bar, putting one foot on the brass rail—the old, restful brass rail—and ordered a scuttle of suds—the old, thirst-quenching, refreshing suds—for himself. (If Adolph ever tells this story at home he will make a lot of mouths water).

"Just as the saloon keeper was setting up the suds his attention was suddenly drawn to the dog, which was looking toward his new found master and saying: 'Get something for me! Get something for me!' The saloonkeeper, completely flabbergasted, looked from the dog to the ventriloquist, and from the ventriloquist back to the dog. He tried to say something, but in his amazement he had lost his voice.

"Just then the ventriloquist, looking toward the free lunch counter, said to the saloon keeper: 'Would you er—mind if I gave my dog a piece of sausage?'

"'Cer—certainly not,' said the saloon keeper. 'Give 'im two pieces. Give 'im all he wants.' So the ventriloquist threw the dog a bit of sausage, and then walked back to the bar to finish his beer, the saloon keeper, meanwhile, keeping a fascinated eye on the dog. His beer finished, the ventriloquist turned as if to go, but the saloon keeper, intensely interested in the dog, which by now had finshd his sausage and returned to his new master's side, hurriedly asked the owner of the dog to have one on the house. Just then the dog said: 'Ask him for some more sausage. Ask him for some more sausage.' The saloon keeper, more amazed than ever, nodded toward the free lunch counter.

"After the dog had eaten his second piece of sausage the saloon keeper, apparently having been hit by an idea, asked the ventriloquist what he would take for the dog, whereupon the dog said, in a pleading tone: 'Please don't sell me, master.'

"'I'll tell you what I'll do,' said the saloon keeper, not waiting for the ventriloquist to set a price, 'I'll give you three hundred dollars cash for him.' Whereupon the dog said: 'Don't take it, master. You and I are old friends, master. I don't want to leave you, master.' In the meantime the saloon keeper had counted out the money and was thrusting it toward the ventriloquist.

"The latter, petting the dog, said: 'I hate to do this, Sport, old boy. You and I have been life long friends, and I hate to think of parting with you. But three hundred dollars is a lot of money, Sport, and much as I hate to do it I must part with you.' Thereupon he took the money from the saloon keeper, who immediately walked around in front of the bar to take possession of the dog.

"As the ventriloquist was about to walk out the dog in a crying voice, said: 'I didn't want to be sold, master, and to get even with you I'll never speak another word as long as I live.'"

* * *

IN Ethiopia, says the Encyclopaedia Brittanica, not only was great veneration paid to the dog, but the inhabitants used to elect a dog as their king. This dog was kept in great state, and surrounded by a numerous train of officers and guards. When he fawned upon them he was supposed to be pleased with their proceedings, while his growls expressed disapproval of the manner in which the government was conducted. Such indications of will were implicitly obeyed, or were translated by the worshippers as their own caprice or interest indicated.

Y. M. C. A. Hosts To 140 Students Departing On S. S. Nanking Thursday

Inspiring Speeches Given By Bishop Birney, Dr. Y. Y. Tsu, Mr. S. C. Chu and Mr. K. F. Lum To Collegians Sailing Next Week

The 140 Tsing Hua College and self-supporting students who are sailing for America on the Nanking on Thursday next were guests at a reception given yesterday by the Chinese Y.M.C.A. Mr. S. C. Chu, sub-manager of the Shanghai Commercial and Savings Bank, presided and speeches were delivered by Mr. Y. Y. Tsu, secretary of the Chinese Students' Christian Association of North America; Mr. K. F. Lum, who succeeds Mr. J. H. Goldhart as student secretary of the Y.M.C.A. and Bishop L. J. Birney, formerly dean of the Boston University and new bishop of the Methodist Church.

Two musical numbers interpersed the speeches and they were rendered by Messrs. John Zane of the The Evening Star and Theodore D. K. Ching of the Aeronautical Board of Peking and Mrs. S. M. Woo, wife of the noted physician.

In opening the meeting, Mr. S. C. Chu said:

"We are met today in honor of the large group of 150 students who leave their motherland in a few days to continue their education in the United States.

"We congratulate our guests upon the opportunity that is just before them, and extend to them our heartiest wishes for a safe journey, a profitable experience in America, and a happy return to the country, which at this time so much needs their services.

"Fellow students, you are the few chosen from the 400,000,000 of this country, who are to have this coveted opportunity to prepare yourselves abroad for the largest life and service. Remember that 'from him who receives much, much will be required.' As you enjoy greater advantages, the country from which you go will require greater service from you. As the former President of Yale University, Dr. Hadley has said: 'Life is not a cup to be drunk. Life is a cup to be poured out,' by which he means that advantages given to us are not for selfish purposes, but for service to humanity. We believe we can look to you students in the years to come for that unselfish service which China needs in the years of her rapid reconstruction.

"However, it is not my duty to make the address today. I have pleasure in calling upon one who has passed through the experiences which now you are having, who has received his degree from one of the largest universities in America, and who is now serving his country unselfishly as general secretary of the Chinese Student Christian Association in North America. On account of his close contact with students in America and his wide acquaintance with students of all parts of the world, I feel sure that Dr. Y. Y. Tsu has a message which all of you will want to hear."

TSU SPEAKS

Dr. Y. Y. Tsu dwelt upon the practical problems that the students will meet as from the time they leave Shanghai until they become adjusted to the new life abroad. He spoke of the various organisations in the colleges such as the Chinese Students' Clubs, and the Chinese Students' Christian Association with their local and national organisations. He dwelt upon the importance of the students finding an opportunity to get into Christian homes. Said he in part:

"Most important of all is the spirit, the heart of America. This is more important than connection with the material elements. This can only be gotten through rich personalities that we will have contact with.

"Let us be economical. Let us be humble. Let us not become proud. Then when we come back we will not be out of touch with our people, but we may able to serve.

Mr. K. F. Lum, the new secretary of the Student Bureau of the Shanghai Y.M.C.A. gave a personal testimony of the helpful experiences which he had while securing his education in the United States.

Bishop L. J. Birney speaking on behalf of Americans, extended a welcome to students about to set forth for America. First, because of the friendliness of America to China, in the past and now. Secondly, because America has so much to offer to students. From engineering to philosophy America has much that one can learn. Yet there are greater things that one can learn in America than that found in books. Search for the inner, silent qualities that have made America great. All of them due to the atmosphere of morality and religion. Coming to the third point, the bishop said: "Remember you are coming back to China. You will sojourn in America but your life will be lived in China. See what you can get that you can bring back."

SOCIAL FOLLOWS

After the formal program, refreshments were served to the guests in the boys' lobby, where Messrs. Jui-jen Wang and T. K. Wang, representing the Tsing Hua and self-supporting students respectively expressed their thanks to the committee of the Y.M.C.A. for the splendid reception.

Printing matter giving valuable information to Chinese students after their landing in America prepared by the Chinese Students Christian Association of North America was then distributed to the guests by Mr. Y. Y. Tsu.

Among the guests present was Admiral Phelps, in command of the Yangtsze Patrol of the United States Navy.

Manager J. L. Huang of the self-supporting delegation announces that a meeting of the self-supporting students will be held at the Yih Ping Shang Hotel this morning at 11 o'clock. All private students are urged to attend. A picture will be taken of the entire delegation.

ASK EJECTMENT OF PRESIDENT LI FROM RESIDENCE

Former President Hsu Charges Unlawful Occupancy

Orders for the ejectment of Li-Yung-hung, President of the Chinese Republic, from his residence in Tung Chang Hutung, Peking, were asked in a petition filed with the Metropolitan Police by Hsu Shih-chang, ex-president of the Republic, represented by his brother, Hsu Shih-kang, according to a telegram carried by the Eastern Times yesterday.

The former present charges President Li with unlawful possession of the building to which the former has a legal title by virtue of a mortgage. During the Yuan Shih-kai monarchical regime, this house was purchased by the Ministry of Finance by order of the President-Monarch for the use of Li, who was made "Wu Yi Chin Wang" (Chivalrous and Righteous Prince). With the downfall of Yuan Shih-kai the house became an official property. During Hsu Shih-chang's administration the Ministry of Finance mortgaged the house to Hsu for the sum of $200,000 for payment of the expenses incurred by the Presidential Palace.

When Li arrived in Peking in June this year to resume the Presidency he stayed in that house, which has since become his private residence. Hsu's brother has already applied to the Metropolitan Police Court for an injunction against Li. As, however, the case proves too big to be legally handled by the Court, the Magistrate has offered his good offices as a mediator. It is expected that the case may be settled out of court.

FORMER OFFICIAL OF CANTON GOV'T IS ARRESTED HERE

Ex-Minister Of Education To Be Charged In French Court

Chen To-sen, former Minister of Education for the Canton government and at one time a professor in the Peking University, will appear at the French Mixed Court today to answer charges of disseminating Bolshevik literature.

Chen, whose socialistic utterances caused a sensation in Canton about two years ago and who has been once previously fined for Bolshevik activities by the French Mixed Court here, was arrested on Wednesday in his home in Route Vallon, French Concession. He had recently returned to Shanghai from the South. The French police seized a quantity of matrices for the printing of communist pamphlets in Chinese and certain documents relating to the communist cause.

Now They See Him, And Now They Don't

Dr. Sun Yat-sen is still in Canton, according to a telegram received by personal friends of the Southern president yesterday, according to the Kuo Wen News Agency. The telegram which was sent from Canton at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, reads:

"Rumors that the Chief Executive has left Canton are absolutely groundless. As a result of a strategic withdrawal which enabled our two wings to conduct a surprise attack against the enemy, we scored a great victory on August 5 at Tsoutien. A large number of officers and men were captured. We are now pursuing our enemy to Shaokwan."

This contradicts the message carried by Reuter's yesterday to the effect that Dr. Sun left Canton on a British gunboat on Wednesday afternoon and was bound, probably for Shanghai.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, August 10.—Dr. Sun Yat-sen arrived from Canton on board the H. M. S. Moorhen this morning. In the forenoon Dr. Sun boarded the Empress of Russia which sailed for Shanghai.

THIRD FOREIGNER IS ARRESTED AS ROBBERY SUSPECT

Frenchman To Be Charged In Opium Raid Case

A third foreigner, Jean Laglaise, claiming French citizenship, was arrested early yesterday morning in connection with the robbery of a Chinese hong at 559 Foochow Road August 7, when a quantity of clothing and opium is alleged to have been stolen.

Laglaise was arrested at 231 Woosung Road shortly after midnight by Detective Sergeants Douglas and Robertson and was turned over to the French authorities. In his room the police found a Mauser pistol and two rounds of ammunition, a pair of handcuffs, a police whistle and a dagger.

The other foreigners arrested are Harold Kay and F. W. Davis, who have been charged in the British Police Court and come up again for a hearing today. A Chinese also taken into custody in connection with the case was charged at the Mixed Court yesterday and remanded for one week.

ONE MORE SHIP ADDED TO LIST TIED UP IN STRIKE

Another ship was added yesterday to the list of China Merchants Steam Navigation Company vessels now tied up in port owing to walk-out of the crews. The latest ship to be affected by the strike is the Haean, which arrived yesterday from Wenchow. There are now 16 ships of the company idle here. It is not believed that many more of the company's thirty-old vessels will enter port for a time, the company having advised them not to come to port in order to prevent further congestion of their wharves and warehouses.

The dispute between seamen and the company appears no nearer a settlement.

Party Of Doctors May Leave Tomorrow

CALL FOR FUNDS

Organisations Here Ready To Handle Donations

A unit consisting of two foreign doctors, two foreign nurses and two Chinese doctors and four Chinese nurses has been mobilised here to be sent to Swatow to aid in caring for the sufferers in that storm wrecked city and will probably leave for the South tomorrow.

The doctors and nurses, who volunteered their services through the American Red Cross and the Chinese Red Cross, were at first expected to leave tonight for Hongkong by the B. and S. steamer Sinkiang, but it was stated last night that they would not now be able to depart until Saturday. From Hongkong they will be sent back to Swatow, since it is not possible as yet to journey direct to the latter port from Shanghai. Those who have volunteered for work among the stricken populace of Swatow include Dr. Pfister and Mrs. Pfister, Dr. G. A. Huntley and Drs. Yok Ping-shang and Shen Sze-yen.

Dr. B. Y. Wong, who is in charge of the relief campaign launched here by the Chinese Red Cross, stated last night that $300 or $400 worth of medical and surgical supplies and a quantity of foodstuffs have been gathered together thus far to send to Swatow with the contingent. It is expected that by the time the party is ready to leave a considerably increased cargo will be on hand.

No reply has as yet been received to the inquiry telegraphed by the American Red Cross China Central Committee through the American Consulate for more information as regards the needs, financial and otherwise in Swatow. Meanwhile, however, the call has been sent out to the various Red Cross branches throughout the country advising that funds are required. The Chinese Red Cross is making a similar appeal and a substantial response is expected. The Chinese Red Cross has also telegraphed the branch in Hongkong, advising of the impending departure of the relief workers from Shanghai and requesting that arrangements for their transfer to Swatow be made.

APPEALS EMPHASISED

Further emphasis of the suffering in the typhoon smitten city is contained in an appeal issued yesterday by the Associated Mission Treasurers office here. The American Baptist Mission at Swatow, the appeal states, has a strong staff of foreigners and Chinese who will be glad to administer any funds sent to them for the relief of those rendered destitute by the storm. Assurance is given that the money will be wisely disbursed and the Associated Mission Treasurers whose office is at 20 Museum Road, are prepared to receive contribution and to forward them promptly to the Swatow mission. Contributions also may be forwarded to the China Central Committee, American Red Cross, at 4 Quinsan Gardens, or to The China Press which will transmit them to the Committee.

No ships from the typhoon devastated area entered port yesterday and local shipping offices received no additional details of the destruction.

The local offices of the British India company have heard no further word of the freighter Gondia, which was last spoken by wireless while in the typhoon area August 2 and which is believed to have gone down with all hands.

Reports from Woosung yesterday told of the finding of fourteen corpses along the shores of the river, evidently bodies of victims in the sinking of the Chinese steamer Zai On, which went down near Paoshan last Monday morning. It is not yet known how many were drowned when the Zai On sank, but the number is believed to be considerably over 100.

Siccawei Issues Formal Report On The Typhoon

"It has been suggested that the Siccawei observatory should make, without delay, a report on the Swatow typhoon, as was done for the Hongkong typhoon in 1906.

"We do it the more willingly that the invitation meets our own desire. Only to write it at once is a very difficult task, for lack of precise scientific information. The lighthouse reports will not come to hand for a couple of months; the observations taken on board steamers are very few, and there is no hope to get, before a long time, the telegraphic observations of the meteorological stations of the neighbourhood.

"The last observation received from Swatow is that of the 11th of July, 6 a.m., and that is the usual procedure owing to obstacles apparently insuperable. Meteorological telegrams from that place never reach Shanghai until three weeks after, and it is the same for the telegrams from Shamoon, Holhow and Pakhoi. Only Wuchow telegrams arrive sometimes within one week or two.

"In such circumstance we shall content ourselves with a mere description of the track, such as we have traced it, day by day, according to the signals hoisted at the Semaphores of the Chinese Maritime Customs connected with Siccawei. Such a track may have to be modified afterwards, when full information comes, but we think it correct enough for our purpose, just now.

"REGULAR" TYPHOON

"The typhoon that struck Swatow on the second of the present month, was a very regular one, both for its constitution and for the way it followed with quite an ordinary speed. The first sign we had of its existence was mentioned in the warnings we sent to the press on the afternoon of the 29th of July, as follows: Signs of a depression between the Carolines and the Marianas.

Greater precision was obtained the same date, at 9 p.m. when we sent to all the Semaphires the signal: typhoon in lat. 12° long. 135° travelling towards W.N.W.; and at 10 p.m. the wireless station announced that a new typhoon was midway between Yap and Luzon, moving to W.N.W. or N. W.

"The following day, 30th August, the direction of the wind at Yap (SW.) enabled us to follow the track more closely, and at 2 p.m., then at 9 p.m., word was sent to the semaphores that it had crossed meridians 132° and 130° on the same direction.

"Even at that time the signal showed that the storm was a heavy one, and in an answer to a local firm we added the significative term strong typhoon.

"On the 31st, it was clear that the centre was inclining more than before in a N. W. direction, and two different positions were signalled to the semaphores, the one in the morning by lat. 16°, long. 128° and in the evening by lat 17° long. 124°, and the Koukaza wireless warning at 10 p.m. added: 'The typhoon is threatening the Bailintang Channel and Formosa.'

YAP REPORT LATE

"Up to that date, it is easy to understand that the positions were not easy to ascertain, as we had observations only on one side of the cyclone, and the Yap report, at a very long distance being mostly late or lacking.

"On the first of August, better information came to hand, as the centre approached South Formosa and North Luzon, and two successive warnings during the day repeated that the South of the Formosa Strait and the coast of Kwangtung were directly threatened with a hard blow.

"The evening signal gave the position by lat. 20° long. 120° and the direction N. W. with the mention heavy storm. If one looks at a map, he will see at once that with a motion towards N. W., Swatow was just in the way of the storm. Manila had W. S. W. winds, South Formosa a N. E. gale, the Pescadores hard N. N. E. squalls, Hongkong westerly breezes, there was no report of course from Swatow.

"According to a report sent by Reuter to the press, the gale started to blow, at Swatow, on the second at 10 p.m. and lasted during the whole night. It is sure that the falling barometer and some squalls gave signs of the cyclone previously, but the above agrees very well with the position given to the centre, at the Semaphores, at 4h. 15m p.m.: latitude 23° longitude 117°, a place very near the Lamocks lighthouse.

"As nothing has been yet received about the direction, the veering or backing of the wind, it is impossible to say whether the vortex passed on the N. or the S. side of the unfortunate city. It may be inferred that it crossed just on it or very near. If the positions given are correct, the centre of the storm crossed the Southern entrance of the Formosa Strait with a speed of 12 nautical miles per hour, which agrees very well with the average advance at this latitude. We have not yet any means of stating the pressure at the centre.

"The tidal wave mentioned in the reports is just what was to be expected. In the centre of typhoons, when they travel a long distance at sea, a surge of water is formed, a kind of round intumescence, some 20 or 25 feet high and many miles broad. When such a mass of sea water follows the typhoon against a rocky and high coast, it is broke with the only result of pyramidal back surf waves at a distance; but when it enters a deep bay, or the mouth of a river, it causes in it a terrible rise, often with terrific results of distruction and loss of life, of which there are many instances.

"If the reader is in command of a ship, we beg him to remember that any information he can give, concerning this or any other typhoon, will be received with gratitude at the observatory, and becomes useful to other sailors. Forms to be filled are found at the Time Ball station, The Bund."

Order Gradually Being Restored By Chinese At Swatow

Hongkong, August 10.—The British Consul at Swatow has sent a letter to the Acting Governor of Hongkong saying that the general situation is improving and that the Chinese are doing their best to cope with the tremendous task of evolving some sort of order from the chaos which exists on the Kaliat side of the harbors. The two most pressing needs are fresh water and food, which, however, seem to have been met to some extent.

As there appears to be a sufficiency of rice for present needs, the Consul suggests that no more should be sent by the Hongkong Government unless or until he notifies that the necessity for so doing has again arisen. He states that he has been requested to convey the very warm thanks of the Chinese officials speaking on behalf of the Chinese community for the generous assistance and offers of help given by the Hongkong Government in their hour of need. The Consul gives the assurance that the action of the Hongkong Government has been genuinely and deeply appreciated.

Swatow, August 10.—All the European and American residents are safe. None of the nuns was drowned.

Hongkong Liberal Toward Sufferers

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, August 9.—Dr. Claude Severn, the Officer administering the Government, and Mrs. Severn opened the subscription list for Swatow relief with $500.

The Hongkong and Shanghai Bank subscribed $5,000; Messrs. Jardine, Matheson's and Butterfield and Swire's and the Asiatic Petroleum Company $2,000 each and several firms and public companies $1,000 each.

Sir Robert Ho Tung heads the Chinese list with $5,000.

The Chinese subscriptions for a single day amounted to $40,000

Launch Companies Ask Authorities To Help End Strike

The local launch companies operating boats between Shanghai and Wuchow and points beyond have wired the civil authorities of Chekiang asking that steps be taken to correct conditions which have resulted in the striking of launch crews and the tying up of the launch service through Wuchow.

The trouble has grown out of an order issued by the Chekiang authorities some time ago that the city jetty at Wuchow be no longer used by the launches to discharge cargo and passengers, but that a jetty on the outskirts be used. The launch owners seek to have this order cancelled. There are now nearly a score of launches tied up in Wuchow and the service to that locality and beyond is practically nil.

Survivor Of Famous Younghusband Trip Talks To Rotarians

Major Jack Hamilton Tells Of Thibetan Adventures

Stories of the Thibetan wilds, of mystic Lhasa and of camp life in India formed a highly entertaining program at the Rotary Club's regular weekly tiffin meeting yesterday, when the members were addressed by Major Jack Hamilton, who was a member of the famous Younghusband expedition and has soldiered in many lands.

The speaker related many tales of engrossing interest regarding the Thibetan journey and painted in fascinating terms the picturesque, and sometimes awful, aspect of the country through which the expedition made its way toward the Forbidden Land's capital and through which the six survivors escaped. Switching to yarns of the camps and cantonments of his India experiences he kept his audience shaking over the relation of amusing incidents.

Major Hamilton has recently come to Shanghai to join the Chinese American Publishing Company.

New Edition Of Summer Follies At The Del Monte

The Del Monte Cafe, which has been turning patrons away since the advent of the "Summer Follies" artists, is announcing a new program in the way of another edition of the "Follies" for tomorrow and subsequent nights.

New songs and dance numbers by Carolyn Mason, Elvira Petty, Irene Gray, Hamilton and Mill and S. C. Brady, feature the program and the phenomenal Russian dancers, the Lansdorffs, will also give special turns. The Lansdorffs have signed a contact to appear on one of the "big time" vaudeville circuits in America and expect to leave for the States in the near future.

200 At Reception For Miss Chur

Mr. D. S. F. Chur of the Shanghai-Nanking Railway and Mrs. Chur gave a farewell tea dansant in honor of their daughter, Gertrude, yesterday at their home, 32 Scott Road. More than 200 guests attended the party. Miss Chur is leaving on the Nanking on Thursday for the United States and will go to Detroit for higher education. She was a graduate of McTyeire's High School and while in school was active in public affairs.

Mr. John Zane of the Evening Star furnished some Hawaiian selections while the dance music was rendered by the Mandarin Jazz Band.

Reckless Driver Kills Chinese And Flees From Scene

Reckless driving resulted in another death and in the injury of a second Chinese on Avenue Joffre early yesterday afternoon.

The fatality occurred when a motor car dashed past a tramcar at a point about opposite No. 600 Avenue Joffre, knocking down two Chinese, father and son, who had just alighted from the car. The chauffeur, according to witnesses, did not halt to ascertain the extent of his victims' injuries but drove rapidly away. The police hope to trace the car and bring the driver to trial. One of the Chinese was killed almost instantly and the other was badly injured.

If fire should sweep through your office tonight, in what shape would you find your records tomorrow?

These records are the very foundation of your business. Without them it would come to a standstill.

Fire insurance companies pay only the amount of the actual loss sustained on the Day of the Fire. You are required to prove the amount of this actual loss by your records. If your records are destroyed you are helpless.

You should find out what fire hazards exist in and around your building and what you can do to protect yourself against them. Failure to do so may mean disaster.

BRITISH COURT RESERVES RULING IN WATSON CASE

After further testimony by the defendant and summing up by counsel Judge Peter Grain of the British Supreme Court reserved judgment in the case wherein Kwok Wai Hee, proprietor of Watson's Mineral Water Factory is suing Mr. W. J. Haynes for alleged misrepresentation in turning over the business and consequent loss.

Under cross-examination the defendant stated that as regarded the furniture there was no mention of this property in the agreement he had in purchasing the business from A. S. Watson and Co., and that he assumed it was included in the purchase. Dealing with the matter of bottle labels he contended that there was no marked similarity between his labels and those of A. S. Watson and Co. for aerated water bottles.

Mr. A. E. Seddon appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. R. G. Macdonald for the defendant. In summing up Mr. Seddon stated that with regard to the claim it was somewhat in excess of what the evidence supported and as a result a fresh statement has been prepared based on the evidence.

National Forces Land Man And Arms At Three Centers

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 10.—It is understood that the National forces have effected almost simultaneous landings at Cork, Youghal and Bantry in the face of opposition on the part of irregulars, constituting one of the most daring coups of the campaign. Four ships containing some 1,500 men with artillery voyaged from Dublin. Fighting is now progressing. The significance of the landings lies in the fact that the Nationals practically hemmed in the main body of their opponents, who were compelled either to give battle or disperse to the hills in small bodies.

Chinese Farmers Prey Of Swindlers

Wong Ts-fah and Ying Ah-zoo, two hawkers were obliged to give bonds guaranteeing good behavior and were forbidden to loiter along the creek banks yesterday in the Mixed Court after testimony had been presented that recently they were operating a form of confidence game that is more or less familiar to the police.

The quaint practice of the swindlers has been to intercept arriving countrymen bringing produce into Shanghai on junks and in the guise of officials to impose charges against the countrymen for the right to land the produce. Complaint in the cases of the two hawkers was made by Woo Wen-sz and Wong Kung-sih, two farmers who were victimised.

Sir Paul Chater Sees Great Future For Coal In China

(Reuter's Special Service)

London, August 9.—Sir Paul Chater arrived in London yesterday. In the course of an interview he said that his visit was connected with the development of coal-mining in China.

There was a great deal of coal in China, he said, expressing the opinion that when the state of the country was quieter coal-mining would be undertaken properly.

When this was done he hoped to organise an iron and steel works in the British Territory near Hongkong.

"Hongkong has given me a great deal and I hope to be able to do something for it in return. If I can leave the iron industry as a heritage I shall be glad."

Pessimism In London Over Reparations

establishment of a customs line round the occupied area and the rest of Germany and of a custom line round the Ruhr district was undesirable, the opinion being expressed that there would be no real moratorium if it simply imposed equally onerous forms of payment instead of the present forms.

All except France felt that should the necessity for any such guarantee arise it would be much simpler to take over the normal German customs. All except France likewise opposed the taking over of a 50 percent share in dye and other factories on the left bank of the Rhine, their opinion being that it would produce no cash whatever while the German Government would have to buy out the proprietors with fresh paper money, thus aggravating the currency situation.

TO MEET FRIDAY

No formal meeting of the conference will be held till Friday morning. Meanwhile the French as well as the British Cabinet will meet to consider the situation.

London, August 9.—It is understood that the majority opinion of the committee of experts is against the French proposal for the establishment of customs and the imposition of taxation in the occupied area.

The proposal to seize mines and forests has also been rejected but the committee will be invited to consider a system of guarantees ensuring supply of coal and wood for the Allies.

The proposal to ask Germany to agree to a share in industrial concerns being given to the Allies has likewise been rejected.

The Committee generally favored Signor Schanzer's view that there was contradiction between granting a moratorium and taking German property.

It was also held that these steps were unnecessary in view of the guarantees lately imposed by the Committee of Guarantees.

It was felt that it was necessary not merely to look at some these matters from a financial standpoint but to take into account their political and moral effects.

The French Minister of Finance did not attend the afternoon meeting.

DIRECT COLLECTIONS

It is learned from a French source that the committee has decided to recommend that the 26 percent tax on German exports should be collected directly by the Reparations Commission on the despatch of goods instead of Germany paying the equivalent in a round sum, as is the procedure now.

London, August 9.—The Cabinet Ministers who are on holiday are being summoned post haste from abroad and from Scotland for a Cabinet meeting tomorrow afternoon to consider the serious situation created by the fact that no agreement is in sight of the conference.

It is stated that grave decisions will have to be taken, settling definitely what policy the country should follow. It is learned that the Government considers it an unsound policy to make the moratorium dependent upon conditions which would destroy the productivity of Germany.

The French report that Mr. Lloyd George agreed to the seizure of German customs receipts is denied while the question of the control of State mines in the Ruhr valley and of forests in the Rhineland is still being considered.

Many Injured By Blast On Steamer

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, August 10.—An explosion occurred in the engine room of the Russian steamer Indighirka on August 7 in the Hainan Straits. Several casualties resulted. The Indighirka gave the distress signal and the steamer Hoiping, which was passing, went to her assistance. The injured persons were transferred to the Hoiping, which made at once for Hongkong.

A Chinese fireman who was very badly scalded died on the voyage while the Chief Engineer, M. Egoroff, died as the steamer was entering the harbor. The third engineer, M. Belaieff, was taken to hospital but succumbed to his injuries this morning.

Whirlwind Finish Planned For Baseball Season; 24 Games On For Next 30 Days

Management Has Record Breaking Plans For Betterment Of Condition Of Equipment And Finance; Five Series In View; Dollar To Be Charged For Week-end Games

Shanghai fans are to be given a feast of high class baseball in the one month remaining of the present season with fully 24 big league games against at least five strong teams, if plans of Manager Gallop and President McIntyre carry through. The sum total of games for the season when finally added up, will be 30 percent higher than ever before, and, in spite of last year's Olympics, the class of ball played on the local lot will still rank higher that ever. Manager Gallop in planning for the whirlwind finish of the 1922 season is figuring finances closely but with wise handling and loyal support from the whole membership he is certain to carry through.

In addition to staging these 24 games, with imported nines he hopes eventually to replace entirely the dilapidated stands which have been in service for the past 10 years, that are now at the end of their usefulness, but to reclothe the team in new uniforms in the spring of 1923, to re-establish the custom of holding a big banquet for players at the end of the season to present each of the most valuable players with a sweater in blue with a big buff colored "S" signifying that the player has made his "letter" for the club, to provide a fund for the many dozens of balls and other equipment needed for the coming season and to leave a balance of dollars well up into four figures for next season's management to start with. The Club at the end of the present season should stand with a record behind it never before equalled, and a condition of finances and equipment, not to mention morale, far beyond anything ever dreamt of by any former management.

There will be a big expense, naturally, attaching to the approaching series. Fort Mills, who arrive here today and play the week end games against Shanghai; Meiji university, the best college nine in Japan excepting only Waseda who come here on Wednesday; Yamaguchi Higher Normal School, the champion of the Japanese colleges who reach here a week from Monday, and the Peking Marines and the Tientsin Infantry who have broken even 3-all on their series for the championship of North China, all will require some financing. Gallop is bringing all of these nines to Shanghai within the next thirty days, and still is planning for a most prosperous condition at the end of the year.

Of the 24 games scheduled for the finish-of-the-season, approximately six, the Saturday and Sunday games for the next three weeks will have a gate charge of $1.00 for all spectators, members and non members alike. It is figured with these charges that the treasury can finance the various series, and still meet all of the items of extraordinary expense attaching to the handling of baseball affairs this year. The charge for week-end games becomes effective tomorrow.

When it is figured that 60 games will have been staged by the management by the end of the season, which will be approximately more than 30 percent more than ever before staged in Shanghai, and the fact considered that the treasury has been subjected to almost 41 percent more expense, together with the various items of extraordinary expense such as replacements of stands (not contended with in the last 10 years), the purchase of uniforms etc., it is expected that members and other fans will contribute gladly at the gate for week-end games during the forthcoming big league series. It is the belief of the management that the fans will prefer to attend these high class games at a small cost to insure the success and prosperity of the club, rather than to have the season end now with the Shanghai nine, the best that has ever been assembled here, finish the season for want of opposition.

Shanghai plays Fort Mills the champions of the Department of the Philippines tomorrow and Sunday, commencing at 4 p.m.

UMP GINK WAS NEVER DEFEATED

His Record Will Stand Like Ladies In Subway Trains At Rush Hour

Dear Us—My choice for Dempsey's next opponent is Gink Fowler, the Roughtown umpire. I will put the family debts on Gink for money, chalk or marbles.

When those two come together, I want to be in the next collision. Fill out the coupon and send it to JOHN MARESCA, Jersey City.

Mr. Maresca's suggestion is well doped, but that incident was cancelled long ago. Gink and Dempsey met once.

Their meeting wasn't premeditated. It was an accident. That is, it was no accident for Gink.

Roughtown was right in the crucial series for the alley championship of the underworld. They had only to win 158 more games and the world's watch fobs would go to their own pawnbroker.

Roughtown's opponent was the visiting outfit of steeplejacks from West Horror. Knowing that Gink was playing umpire for Roughtown they hired Jack Dempsey to carry their bat bag containing pure, unadulterated leopards. Jack was disguised as a tourist and nobody suspected that this unquiet, assuming stranger was really the package of unseeded knuckles.

Gink stepped up to his first decision and made a wild swing at it. Dempsey came rushing in from the new mown bleachers and slapped Gink for a short vacation.

Gink changed his decision so fast he broke the hinges on the rule book. Dempsey booted Gink from every difficult angle and when Gink stopped bouncing, the game was over.

That's the real story of Dempsey's defeat by Gink Fowler in the first double-header ever fought by champions. Gink was satisfied and refused to accept a rain-check on the First National Bank.

Men's Doubles Finalists To Qualify Today On S. C. C. And C. C. Courts

Champions Toussaint And Car navarro To Play Sheldon And Wade At Cricket Club; Parbury And George Meet Roberts And Dawson At Country Club

The finalists for the Men's Doubles championship of the Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association for 1922 will qualify this afternoon when Sheldon and Wade meet the title holders, Toussaint and Carnavarro on the S. C. C. grounds, and Parbury and George play Roberts and Dawson at the Country Club. The play this year has, perhaps, been the best and certainly the most interesting of any former competition.

Toussaint and Carnavarro, winners of the cup in 1921 and in 1920 will find themselves opposed to a much stronger and larger opposition this year than ever before. Sheldon and Wade who play them today in the semi final each have figured as cup winners in other years in different combinations of players. Sheldon with Pott won the title in 1919; Wade, with Kashio was one of the double champions in 1916. The two Sheldon and Wade are playing together this year for the first time and they have showed startling class.

Parbury and George, from the bottom side of the draw have played winning tennis throughout the early rounds, and, due to George recovering from his illness are ranking better with every match. Parbury already has won the singles championship, and with Humphreys took the Hong Double. He is the only local player who gave a good opposition to the visiting Californians in the recent matches. George is improving daily in his play. The pair will play Roberts and Dawson in a hard game.

Toussaint and Carnavarro drew a bye in the first round of the play, but in the second round beat Barker and Holdsworth 6-1, 6-2, 6-1. In the third round the pair came through in typhoon weather against Ollerdessen and Look Wai 6-4, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

Sheldon and Wade have played through from the first matches of the tournament, beating Hayes and Manley in the first round 6-2, 6-4, 6-4; Oka and Okasaki in the second round, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3, and Gulick and

In The U.S. Court For China

Absence of Mr. Richard Brown, one of the witnesses for the prosecution, yesterday afternoon forced an adjournment until Monday in the United States Court for China in the trial of Mr. P R. Moore, former missionary, who is charged with adultery. The specific charge is that the act was committed by Moore, a married man, and Mrs. Dudley E. Swinehart in Room 31 of Bickerton's Private Hotel on Bubbling Well Road on April 23 last. Mrs. Swinehart's husband, Dudley E. Swinehart, is the complaining witness in the case.

Two other actions involving Mr. and Mrs. Swinehart and Moore are now pending. Mr. Swinehart has also filed suit for divorce and has filed a civil suit against Mrs. Swinehart and Moore for the recovery of $4,500 Gold, which, he alleges, belongs to him and was taken by Mrs. Swinehart when she went into business with Moore under the firm name of the Mosofart Company.

During the course of yesterday's sessions of the trial, which occupied the entire day, all of the testimony for the prosecution, with the exception of that to be offered by Mr. Brown, was taken, and one witness for the defense was heard.

It was made evident throughout the course of the examination of the various witnesses that the case will be bitterly fought on both sides. Mr. Moore's defense, it was revealed during the cross-examination by his attorney, Mr. F. J. Schuhl, will be that the scene at the hotel was a "frame-up," and that he and Mrs. Swinehart were merely discussing business matters when Mr. Swinehart and Mr. Brown broke into the room.

Testimony was given yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. William G. Alford, who formerly lived in the same house with the Swineharts and Moore, and by Mr. Swinehart, and a Chinese employed by the Oriental Secret Service, which had been engaged by Mr. Swinehart to "shadow" his wife. Much of the testimony was of such a character as to make it unprintable.

The hearing was punctuated by sharp verbal clashes between Mr. Schuhl and U. S. District Attorney Leonard G. Husar, who is conducting the prosecution, and at one point, the court admonished both attorneys to be more careful in their statements.

A Coffee Discovery

According to an Arabian legend, Hadji Omar, a pious Dervish, was outlawed from Mocha in the year 1285. When almost dying of hunger in the wilderness, he roasted some of the small round berries he found growing wild in the thickets. A few of the roasted berries accidentally fell into his drinking water, and thus coffee was discovered.

"THE SECRET OF SUCCESS"

Many people are looking for it in vain. In the Aerated Water business, it is easy to find, and may be expressed in one word "QUALITY." If the quality is not right, all your other efforts are wasted. For that reason we buy everything used in the preparation of our Aerated Waters of the best quality only, and we invite an inspection of our books to prove it.

Another point with us, of equal importance, is that everything in connection with the preparation of our Aerated Waters is

"ABOVE BOARD"

We do not want to shut ourselves in within a high wall while working, and we have no secrets. If you care to visit our factory at any time, we shall be pleased to show and explain everything to you. It will surprise you to see the infinite care taken to ensure the purity of our Waters.

Support the officers of the Health Dept. by seeing for yourself as well.

PASTOR'S WIFE DIES AT KULING AS HE PREACHES

Dr. Dixon Delivers Address Under Great Strain

(China Press Correspondence)

Kuling, August 7.—Mrs. A. C. Dixon, wife of Dr. Dixon who has been the leading speaker of Convention Week in Kuling, died yesterday at 11:55 while her husband was preaching the Sunday morning sermon in the large Union Church. Dr. and Mrs. Dixon came to Kuling directly from Peitaiho where he had also given a series of addresses. Mrs. Dixon became ill during the journey, and upon their arrival in Kiukiang she was in a very critical condition. They delayed the journey up the mountain for a day, but since she showed no signs of improvement she was brought to Kuling on Wednesday, being unconscious during the whole journey. Her sickness was so severe from the beginning that it was at first feared she had cholera, or perhaps some sort of poisoning.

But the disease which carried her away proved to be meningitis, and although she suffered severely during the attack, she passed away quietly at the end and without great pain.

Dr. Dixon had been scheduled to speak two or three times each day but his delay in Kiukiang necessitated his cancelling the appointments on Wednesday. During the Sunday morning service, people realised the strain of the burden which was upon him, for it was commonly known that probably Mrs. Dixon would not recover.

Yet the whole assembly particularly noted the quiet, calm, and resigned spirit of the man, as he preached an able and inspiring sermon on "Why Am I a Christian." At the close of the sermon he was called from the platform, and the announcement was made that Mrs. Dixon had passed away.

A beautiful solo then was sung by Miss Flower. The song was entitled "Open the gates of the temple" and its impressive message of "immortality" found unusually receptive ears.

Dr. and Mrs. Dixon are members of the Southern Baptist Church, and he has been an active pastor in America for 45 years. Mrs. Dixon as a pastor's wife has also been very active in Christian service. She has been interested in the cause of Foreign Missions for many years, and has done much in organising and promoting Foreign Mission Societies among the women of her own denomination.

They came to China in June, Under the auspices of the Stewart Evangelistic Funds, to conduct conferences and conventions during the summer weeks. Dr. Dixon will return to America soon and will continue his work as a pastor, in Baltimore.

The funeral service for Mrs. Dixon will be held in Kuling Union Church today at 5 o'clock, and the burial service at the cemetery at 7 o'clock.

(Reuter Special Service)

Paris, August 9.—Following upon a further report by the experts on the irregularities in the payment of share subscriptions of the Banque Industrielle de Chine, the Examining Magistrate sent today for M. Pernotte and further questioned him.

M. Pernotte again declared his innocence, which, he said, would be recognised later when the Bank was reconstituted.

Several officials of the Bank, who were also examined, contented themselves with saying that they had placed their entire confidence in M. Andre Berthelot.

Tang Shao-Yi---Premier

THE appointment of Tang Shao-yi as Premier is merely camouflage work on the part of President Li Yuan-hung. A coalition Cabinet with a Southerner as its presiding officer! Tang is not and was not expected to assume the office. The reasons are:

1. Tang was Southern peace delegate in 1919 when he made the deal on behalf of Dr. Sun with the Northern peace delegate, Wang Yi-tang whereby Tuan Chi-jui, the Anfu leader, concluded an alliance with Dr. Sun, paving the way for the eventual affiliation of the Anfu and Kuomingtang parties. For this act, Wu Pei-fu can never forgive him and has openly opposed his appointment.

2. Tang was appointed Premier by Li in 1917 just before Chang Hsun's monarchical restoration efforts. He was compelled to stay away from office, because he was confronted with the allegation that he had "squeezed" the government of a large sum of money while he was premier under Yuan Shih-k'ai's administration in 1912 through securing the Belgian Loan. A statement of the details of this loan was still being demanded by Parliament as late as its reconvocation on August 1.

3. Since the split with Dr. Sun in 1920, Tang has remained quietly on his estate near Hoonshan out of respect for his former colleague, Dr. Wu Ting-fang. That he has rejected all political offers during the last two years, there is no question. He could not ally himself with General Chen Chiung-ming in the latter's campaign against Dr. Sun and it is evident that he cannot enter the political arena before the Southern question is settled.

Opposition from the Chihli party and from Parliament as well as his own desire to live in retirement prevent Tang Shao-yi from accepting the premiership. But Li Yuan-hung probably wanted Tang to accept. He gave an important cabinet portfolio to Lo Sun who is associated in business in Shanghai with Tang Shao-yi.

The thunder-blow came when a telegram from Loyang announced the open opposition of Wu Pei-fu to both Tang and Lo. The last named was designated by Wu as impossible. Lo was closely identified with the exchange boom in Shanghai last year.

Wu Pei-fu favors the formation of a substantial cabinet by Wang Chung-hui, former Minister of Justice and one of the delegates to the Washington Conference. He also opposes the appointment of Chan Yao-tseng as Minister of Justice because it was Chang that obstructed the re-unification of the country through activities of own political clique, the Tseng Hsueh-hui.

With the downfall of Dr. Sun, the Chihli party rides into full power—unless Tang Shao-yi who is a statesman, and not a militarist, decides to make one more effort on his own.

He is the one remaining hope of the Kuomingtang.

THE RICSHA MEN

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir: The most humane piece of literature that has ever been printed in THE CHINA PRESS—nay, in China—is Mr. W. Bruce Lockhart's letter on The Ricsha Men published in your today's issue. Indeed, you do a good service to the community by making known to us this "wonderful" ricsha story.

I believe Mr. Lockhart's idea of a special commission is easy to be carried out.

The story of Mr. Lockhart's letter is just as wonderful as that told in Mr. Upton Sinclair's novel "The Jungle." I hope all the Chinese dailies in Shanghai will translate the letter into Chinese. I am, etc.

TSEU YIH-ZAN.

"TEN MILLIONS A MONTH"

Editor: THE CHINA PRESS

Sir.—In your issue of August 9 under the caption, "Delay in Tariff Revision Costs China Heavily" is published news from the Chung Mei Service dated Peking August 5. "Ten millions monthly in Revenue lost is the estimate."

As Chairman of the Commission for the Revision of Import Tariff allow me to state that there is absolutely no delay in the work of tariff revision. Members of the different Delegations are taking turns for a little recreation but the work is going on under the Sub-Committees. Chinese financiers are impatient for lack of ready funds to meet urgent requirements but cannot be impatient with this Commission for lack of work or lack of speed. We have three meetings a week, sometimes four, and that is why "no criticism" is levelled against the Commission, because "The work of this body is going ahead as fast as possible."

The heat and recent storm have not impeded our work. I, for one, feel drunk with success so far. Perhaps I ought not to use the word drunk because in the success of our work the American Delegates are included. I should use the milder word "flushed." We have not advertised our work feverishly drinking silent water from Watson's dispensary.

The ten millions or five millions of dollars have never been lost because this Commission considers time is money. Perhaps a few million roubles were meant.

Thanking you for the courtesy of inserting this letter. Yours very faithfully,

TSAI TING-KAN.

"TRAM TRIBULATIONS"

Editor: THE CHINA PRESS.

Sir.—I have read with interest the letter of H. C. W. in your issue of August 8, with regard to Shanghai Trams, and heartily agree with all its sentiments. It has been my misfortune to ride in these trams for many years and I have never seen any cars run in so dangerous a manner. I am an American and so come from a country which, whatever its faults, can never be accused of being slow! Yet in its largest city, New York, a car is never started while passengers are getting on or off. Here in Shanghai it is an exception if all the passengers are on when a tram starts!

Because the Chinese country people are ignorant, slow and stupid, is that a reason why they should be killed or maimed when attempting to use a public vehicle to which they are as much entitled as the more educated? I have seen an old man and child thrown to the ground on Bubbling Well Road while they were trying to board a car. I have seen coolies pushed off a tram because they were in the wrong section and large numbers of Chinese are put in real danger every time a car is started.

The conductors on the French trams are more careful so that one may venture to take several foreign children on them without fear of accident but I have long since stopped using the international trams when I have my children with me.

If a foreigner feels in this way what must the unprotected Chinese feel? Let the Company allow each motor man more time for his run so that all the passengers may get on and off in safety as the custom is in civilised cities. Enclosing my card, I am, Yours truly,

"AMERICAN."

Seattle's Trade

Seattle and Puget Sound ports are rapidly approaching their former commercial position when the Washington Customs district during the war was second only to New York in foreign commerce. Seattle's commerce for the calendar year of 1922 will be over the half billion dollar mark.

Seattle's import and export trade in June amounted to $37,500,000 or $6,000,000 more than June, 1921. The tonnage was 552,000 tons as again 243,480 tons in June a year ago.

Exports to the Orient during the first six months of 1922 were equal to those of the previous year while imports from the Orient registered a gain of 35 percent. For the first six months of 1922 Seattle's import and export trade amounted to $210,000,000 as compared with $116,000,000 for the same period of 1921.

Seattle Imports from Orient:

| Month | 1922 | 1921 |
|---|---|---|
| Jan. | $18,479,659 | $ 4,881,660 |
| Feb. | 15,958,843 | 7,173,999 |
| Mar. | 11,982,864 | 6,161,154 |
| Apr. | 12,165,350 | 17,660,128 |
| May | 15,315,954 | 11,594,538 |
| June | 15,490,178 | 11,454,717 |
| Totals | $89,392,848 | $58,936,19 |

Seattle Exports to Orient:

| Month | 1922 | 1921 |
|---|---|---|
| Jan. | $ 3,469,343 | $ 4,313,028 |
| Feb. | 3,150,325 | 2,693,272 |
| Mar. | 3,029,064 | 2,966,184 |
| Apr. | 2,059,205 | 2,704,776 |
| May | 1,803,345 | 1,345,351 |
| June | 1,732,368 | 2,569,164 |
| Totals | $15,243,650 | $16,591,775 |

Hundreds of additional tourists to and from the Orient will pass through Seattle during the next few months as a result of the new low fare rates established by the U. S. Shipping Board. Arrangements have been made whereby passengers will be transported from Europe to points in the Orient or vice versa for $620.50, this including first class transportation by steamer and rail with a stopover of nine months allowed. Under this arrangement it will be possible for passengers embarking at English and French ports to come across the Atlantic, then overland by rail to Seattle and then by one of the Shipping Board's $8,000,000 passenger liners and reach the Orient more rapidly than via the Suez Canal. Fast steamers operated by the Shipping Board will rush passengers from Europe to New York and they will be turned over to the Admiral Line at Seattle Shipping Board officials are confident that the new rates, now in effect, will popularise traffic between Europe and the Orient via the Seattle gateway.

All records for discharging raw silk were broken when approximately 6,000 bales were taken from the holds of the President Madison, loaded in express cars and the train on its way in five hours after the big liner threw a line on the dock here. The new record clips an hour and a half from the former Pacific Coast record. The shipment filled 19 cars which were rushed eastward on better than passenger train schedule. The President Madison made the run from Yokohama to Puget Sound in ten days and eleven hours. In the last 15 months 105,000 bales of raw silk valued at more than $100,000,000 have been discharged over one pier alone here.

Where Shackleton Lies

The choice of South Georgia as a burial-place for Sir Ernest Shackleton will appeal strongly to all who were intimate with his rugged character. That he should lie for all eternity at the place where the greatest feat of his adventurous life was brought to a triumphant conclusion, and at the point of civilisation farthest South, would, I believe, be nearer to his wishes than the empty honors of a public funeral at home, writes George E. Marston, who was on the explorer's staff in his two former Antarctic expeditions, in a British newspaper.

"South Georgia, like a waste fragment cast aside by the Creator, lies in the middle of the stormiest sea in the world. Its mountainous interior, its innumerable glaciers, and its rock-bound shores, affording foothold for man in but few places, give it a forbidding aspect, and were it not for the use which whalers have made of it civilisation would have passed it by. It was from this island that Filchner, the German explorer, started on his Antarctic expedition to the Weddell Sea. And it was there that Shackleton last touched in 1914, to return there for help in 1916 when the expedition, broken by disasters, was, but for his courage and resource, at its last gasp.

"The island lies literally at the gateway of the Antarctic. I will always be bound up with the fortunes of expeditions attacking the problem of the Antarctic from that side of the continent. As the burial-place of one of the greatest explorers its name will have a world-wide significance.

"In 1914 I shared with my companions the cheerful hospitality of its Norwegian inhabitants to which Sir Ernest pays such glowing tribute, and the hospital given over to us for our comfort during the time we were tending our dogs was the scene of many happy evenings with Shackleton as always, master of ceremonies. To quote Sir Ernest:

"'The smell of whale permeated everything.' There was no escaping it. In the bay dead whales floated, on the shore their carcases rotted, and the beach was thick with their bleaching bones. We breathed the smell of whale day and night, and fed on whale meat in company with the dogs; but to all this Shackleton was oblivious. He was the soul of the artist. His choice of language, his love of poetry, and his intuitive rightness of choice in these arts are evidence of one of the main forces in his life—the love of the romantic. To listen to his vivid descriptions of travel would stir the dullest, to be with him on the march under appalling conditions made it seem worth while. Here, perhaps, we have the secret of his success as a leader—that power, given to so few, of making the effort seem worth while.

"Up the hillside where we had our camp, and at a point overlooking the open sea, stands a solitary cross over an untenanted grave, placed there to the memory of one of Filchner's men who, on the eve of sailing, was declared by the doctor to be unfit to continue. That night, taking a small boat, he pulled straight out to sea, and was heard of no more. At the little church above the whaling station lies those of 'the whale hunters who have fallen in their calling. A rough life and a rough death is their portion, but nothing could exceed the tender reverence of their burial by the community.

"During the time we were there we attended the funeral of a whaler killed at sea by a falling spar. The shore of the bay strewn with the grotesque bones of whales, the black bier carried by burly whalers preceded by mourners, carrying black wreaths on long poles, the frowning snow-clad heights around, and the melancholy twilight of the Antarctic built up a picture of sombre and dramatic force as the little procession passed around the bay to the little church above the station.

"The last entries in his diary show an unfamiliar Shackleton. It is a moment of tragedy to all who realise that the strength and spring of youth are failing them; but despondence could not long hold him in its grip. He heard once more the romance of life and endeavor calling him, and his last entry, 'In the darkening twilight I saw a lone star hanging like a jewel over the bay,' was characteristic."

Day And Year Are Not Totally Invariable

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
(Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest)

"Is there any difference in actual time as it is today from that of thousands of years ago, caused, perchance, by a difference in the speed of the earth, both on its axis and also in its revolution around the sun?—Constant Reader."

Let us separate the two questions that you have twisted together. First, consider the length of the day, which is measured by the time that the earth takes to make one complete turn on its axis.

There are theoretical reasons why the length of the day should, as it probably does, vary, but the variation is so slight that no certain observation, or measure, of it has yet been made. As Professor Young has said, it certainly has not varied as much as the hundredth part of a second in the last 2,000 years, and probably not as much as a thousandth part of a second.

The test is given by eclipses of the sun and moon, and transits of the inner planets across the sun's disk. The times of these are calculated upon the assumption that the rate of rotation is uniform, and when an eclipse that occurred a thousand years or more ago is used as the basis any considerable change in the rate of rotation would be revealed by its accumulated effects in changing the time of the eclipse. Whether the variation may have been greater in early geologic ages we have no means of determining by similar tests.

According to George Darwin's celebrated theory of the birth of the moon from the earth through tidal friction, the day was only three or four hours long when the moon was born instead of twenty-four hours as at present. But this relates to a time when the earth is supposed to have been a plastic, not a rigid body, and besides it is the result of mathematical calculation applied to assumed data which may be widely mistaken.

The principal reasons why the day should be variable in length, though to a very slight extent, are interesting, and their discovery is a feather in the cap of human intelligence. The reasons, or causes, are three, as follows:

1st, the downfall of meteors upon the earth, which is known to be a fairly regular occurrence, and the effect of which is to increase the mass, or weight, of the earth, with a consequent slowing of its rate of rotation. Why the rotation should be slowed is evident when you consider that the same rotational force is obliged to move an increased mass.

2nd, the friction of the tides as the tidal waves expend their energy in shallowing water, and on eastward facing continental shores. This, too, is manifestly a force tending to slow the rotation.

3rd, the shrinkage of the earth as a result of internal cooling. Here we have an influence tending to increase instead of decreasing the rate of rotation, for it is a mechanical law that if a rotating body decreases in radius the speed of rotation must increase proportionally.

Thus we have two causes of retardation acting in opposition to one cause of positive acceleration. If the two counterbalance the one there can be no variation of the rotational rate; but if one side prevails over the other side then the rotation must be either hastened or slowed according to the character of the mastering force.

It should be added that the tendency to change the rate of rotation derived from internal changes may be of a dual nature. Opposed to the effect of the shrinkage through loss of heat may be that of a swelling of the globe by the heat derived from radioactive energy. It is conceivable that now one and now the other of these causes may be in the ascendant, so that the resulting variation of the rotation may be complex in character—now positive, now minus; at one time greater, at another time less.

Other geological forces must have an effect upon the earth's rate of rotation, those for instance which alternately upheave vast continental masses and afterward produce a settlement toward the earth's center. Thus, it is evident not only that conflicting influences operate upon the length of the day, but that it may increase at one period and decrease at another. It is also evident that in the long run the opposing influences very closely balance each other; or that, if there is a constant gain one way or the other it is too slow to be measured by the effects produced in so brief a period as a thousand or two of years.

Next, let us briefly consider the length of the year, which is determined by the time taken by the earth in making a revolution around the sun. The encounter with meteors, which lengthens the day, should, on the contrary, shorten the year, because by opposing the orbital motion it throws the earth inward toward the sun, with resultant increase of orbital velocity, and so a shortening of the year. But it is believed that this effect does not amount to more than a single second in a million years.

Freight Market

In their fortnightly report on the freight market, Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows:

We have nothing to add to our remarks of a fortnight ago, the Export market to Europe and America being just as stagnant as ever.

To United States via Pacific: Since last writing even the little tea and silk that was then moving has fallen off and there is now practically nothing offering across the Pacific.

Coastwise:—Since last writing a few charters have been made from Northern ports but the recent spell of bad weather all over the China coast has caused much damage to shipping and property and has seriously interfered with sailing arrangements:—advices from Hongkong report a very dull market there and the situation is further aggravated by the unsettled political situation at Canton.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

August 10, 1922

Spot and Forward Bar Silver were each down 1/16d in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 65, and the London-New York Cross Rate to 445/8. The only changes in our Official quotations here today were a rise in the Franc rate to 935 and the Yen rate to 64.

Our market throughout the morning was, although at times easy, on the whole steady. Speculators bought a fair amount of Sterling at 3-5 and 3-5 1-16, also Gold Dollars at 76 1/8.

Banks generally were good sellers of Sterling at 3-5 and Gold Dollars 76 1/8 but at the same time were good buyers at 3-5 1/16 and 76 3/8 respectively.

There was little change in the market in the afternoon although perhaps it was a shade steadier, Banks offering to sell Sterling at 3s. 5 1/16d. delivery September forward, and Gold Dollars at 76 1/4 for the same delivery.
